

SAY GRIEF-CRAZED SHE TRIED TO KILL

Mrs. Micchulo Has Been Insane Since Husband's Death, Her Brother Charges.

Suffering with hallucination that her family was trying to prevent her from earning a living, Mrs. Jilda Micchulo, thirty-five years old, who lives at No. 202 East One Hundred and Eighteenth street, almost succeeded in escaping from Harlem Court to-day after she had been sentenced to Bellevue for five days' observation. She had been arraigned on charge of attempting to shoot her brother, Joseph Masello, last night, but the charge was not pressed until examination of her sanity was made. Mrs. Micchulo, since the death of her husband, has lived with her six-year-old boy. At 6 o'clock last night she went to her brother's shoe store, No. 156 Third avenue, and pulled a revolver. As she aimed it at Masello, uttering a sentence in Italian, the brother ducked behind the counter. When the woman reached the weapon over after him Masello seized her wrist and succeeded in disarming her. Policeman Brassill, of the East Eighty-eighth street station, arrested Mrs. Micchulo, who was taken to the station house, struggling all the way. When arraigned in court to-day she was silent, refusing to say anything except that her boy was home alone, with no one to look after him, and that she wished to go home and get him his breakfast. Masello explained that his sister had suffered hallucinations since the death of her husband, six months ago, and she was held for five days. While in Court, Masello's room had reached the side door when Mrs. McCannley, the probation officer, was near. Her boy is being cared for by a neighbor.

SOLD $175 WATCH FOR $3 TO JEWELER

Edwin Hopkins, the seventeen-year-old son of a school teacher living at No. 121 West One Hundred and Thirty-third street, was to-day arraigned in the Harlem Court with Charles Hoffman, a second-hand jewelry dealer who, the day before, gave him $3.50 for a watch and pin valued at $185, stolen from Mrs. Mary A. Sewell.

Mrs. Sewell, who boarded at the Hopkins home, missed the jewelry and reported to the West One Hundred and Twenty-third street station yesterday. Detective Campbell and Wren were detailed to locate the missing jewelry. The watch worth $185 and a pin worth $10 they went to the Hopkins home and after questioning young Hopkins looked him up. Then they arrested Hoffman, who has a second-hand store at No. 297 Third avenue, whom young Hopkins accused of taking the jewelry, giving him $1 for the watch and 50 cents for the pin. The police charged Hoffman with receiving stolen property, saying he must have known it was stolen to have offered such ridiculous prices. Magistrate Whitman held each in $1,000 for examination Monday.

Consumption Can Now Be Cured.

This is accomplished in only one way, and no one who is suffering from this disease should delay a moment in finding out how. To cure Consumption two things are necessary—the tubercular germs must be killed and the lungs must be filled with air, and all spots healed. Valuable time is lost taking medicines, inhalations and other treatments which have been proven useless in thousands of cases, and during this time of experimenting the disease advances from a mild to a chronic condition, and all chance of help is lost. Do not wait until it is too late, but let us show you how to get well. The Cabanac Institute has made it possible for the sufferer to conquer this deadly disease. The tubercular germs are killed by means of the wonderful Flamen Violet Ray, the method discovered by the eminent Danish Specialist, Dr. Flamen. This is the one and only way ever discovered that will absolutely kill these germs. It is not an X-ray. The X-ray is dangerous; the Flamen Violet Ray is as mild as sunshine. After the germs are killed the lungs are disinfected. CABANAC INSTITUTE, Suite 511, No. 400 W. 23d St., Cor. 9th Ave.
